Funding Creativity

Dear Creative Womyn,

This is a special edition newsletter on 12.12.12 to share about funding opportunities to get your creative initiatives resourced via Pozible a crowdfunding website, and Lesbians Incorporated. We highlight a feature film project "The Trouble with E" which today launches it's Pozible campaign. We encourage you to click on their link to view the video promo and support these passionate, hard-working lesbian film makers.

This newsletter also includes a reminder about what's on this weekend and an invitation for womyn to go sailing in the Jervis Bay area, South Coast NSW.

HOW MANY GOOD LESBIAN FILMS HAVE YOU SEEN LATELY?

Today Louise Wadley and Jay Rutovitz launch a POZIBLE campaign to get one out there. The Trouble with e is a full length feature film. A beautiful, sexy DJ is forced to run when she stumbles on a stash of cash. Can she keep the money, conquer her demons, and get the girl? The film is a road movie, a love story, and a thriller – an adventure about finding the courage to live your dreams, full of love and laughter along the way.

It will be Louise's first feature film – she has made award winning fiction shorts and feature length documentaries, but has dreamt for years of making feature films. Her partner Jay is producing the film, to make the dream become a reality. They have raised 70% of the money they need to shoot the film, and are now going out to our community – you! – for the rest. Please support lesbian creativity by pledging a donation (from $1 upwards, every dollar helps), check out the great promo on www.pozible.com/thetroublewith - and look carefully - there may be someone you recognise!

GAYBY BABY

Another current Pozible project we would like to mention is "Gayby Baby" a documentary by emerging Director Maya Newell with lesbian mums who is aiming to represent the voices and untold stories of other children of same-sex parents. There are just 6 days left for them to meet their target. If you can help, visit this link as soon as possible:
