

Would you like to come sailing?

- Would you like to sail with other lesbians on Jervis Bay?
- Do you have time on the weekends for adventure and recreation?

The Collective and our aims

Isis is purely for recreational purposes. One of our aims is to introduce more women to sailing and help women become familiar with sailing in a supportive, women oriented environment.

We like to race with the Jervis Bay Cruising Yacht Club so there is an opportunity to join our race crew.

We also go on picnics, adventures and weekend sleepouts!

We have a collectively owned women's yacht and any women who would like to experience sailing are invited to come out with us.

Experience is not necessary, but if you are experienced that's great too.

If you are coming for a weekend visit to the south coast, you are welcome to contact us and, wether and schedule permitting, we will be happy to tke you out ans share the joy of sailing on Jervis Bay.

Women of all ages welcome. We love introducing the joy of sailing to more women.

The yacht – “Isis”

Isis is a comfortable, safe, seaworthy yacht of the class Triton 24. She has a very comfortable cabin space for such a small boat. She has 6 berths and a nice galley.

She has a main sail and 2 sizes of foresail. Her inboard diesel motor works well.

She can be easily sailed by
