

Join our women's yacht collective!

“Les Yachties”

We are 5 women who own a 24 foot Triton yacht on Jervis Bay. We are looking for a new member to buy one of the 5 shares as one member is selling due to a change of interests.

The collective

We got together 3 years ago and decided to buy a yacht so we could sail on Jervis bay. Some had some sailing experience and some didn't. We spent several meetings deciding on our collective process and writing our articles of agreement. We each put in $5,000 to purchase and we pay $65.00 per month levy.

Occasionally, if required, we put in an extra levy. We meet every few months at one of our homes to discuss business. Our meetings are congenial and we have reached agreement easily on all matters so far. We have a selection process for membership as outlined in our articles of agreement.

One of the original 5 members wishes to sell, so we are looking for a new woman to purchase her share. The current members are all lesbians. One of our aims is to introduce more women to sailing.

The yacht – “Isis”

Isis is a comfortable, safe, seaworthy yacht of the class Triton 24. She has a very comfortable cabin space for such a small boat. She has 6 berths and a nice galley.

The hull is in good shape and we continue to do upkeep and improvements. She has a main sail, 2 sizes of foresail and a spinnaker.

Her inboard diesel motor works well.

She can be easily sailed by 2-5 crew. She is quite capable of coastal voyages, but we primarily use her for sailing in Jervis Bay. She is moored at Callala Bay.

The activities

We have a booking roster for use of the boat, so members can book her for particular dates for cruising. We also race regularly with the Jervis Bay Cruising Yacht club, which is a well run, friendly and accommodating group. Everyone works on the boat according to availability and skills.

Lots of opportunity for picnics, adventure and weekend sleepouts!
